WHEN: APRIL 26, 2006 UP TO MAY 12, 2006

WHERE: EASTBOUND I-40 NEAR ESSEX

Additional repairs to a damaged bridge located on eastbound I-40 near Essex (post mile 97.3) will take place beginning tomorrow, April 27, 2006. One of two lanes at this location is closed and will remain closed for up to two weeks.

Motorists may experience minimal delays during the lane closure, especially on weekends. Orange cones are a loud signal that it's time to pay immediate extra attention. Traffic can stop suddenly. Eating, drinking, talking on the cell phone, or changing radio stations...look away for a split second and you could slam directly into the car in front of you.
